

Renaissance Wear

Renaissance Wear
Remade, Wearable Works of Art

Fashion will always move forward, but now
sustainably.

We can recycle and repair but we should reinvent.

Take something old and give it a new life.

Embellish, Repair, Wear.

Embellish

Reinvent your old garments with ethical fabric paint, a tea milk overdye, or embroidery.

Repair

Got rips in your jeans or jackets? We can repair flaws with the sashiko embroidery technique.

Wear

Using our custom textiles and old garments, we create new pieces of wearable art.

your wardrobe needs a Renaissance

Customer Board

The Renaissance Wear Customer is cool and creative. She prides herself on having a fashion-forward wardrobe that's good for the planet.

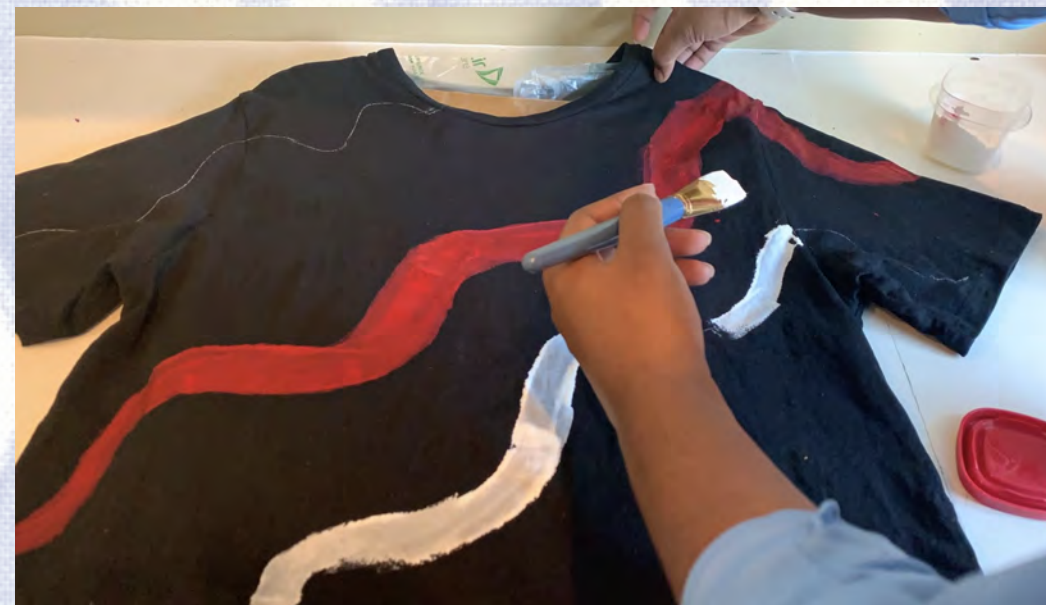

Natural Earth Paint x Renaissance Wear

Natural Earth Paints is a women-run, sustainable art supply brand. They sell eco-friendly paints, mediums, and pigments. They are completely transparent about all the ingredients in their pigments.

Renaissance Wear's sustainable fabric paint is made using pigments from Natural Earth Pigments, gum tragacanth (plant sap), and homemade soy milk.

100% Cotton Fabric, Handpainted using Renaissance Wear's eco-friendly paint.

Tea + Soy Milk Overdye

Tea and soy milk aren't just popular drinks, they are a natural dyeing process that yields beautiful results. The fabrics are painted with store-bought soy milk, dried, and then dyed with black tea.

100% Cotton Fabrics, painted with soy milk and Lipton Black Tea.

Sashiko Repair

Sashiko embroidery was used by the Japanese to embellish and repair old garments.

At Renaissance Wear, we can add flair and repair your worn out clothes.

Denim with a tea-dyed patch

Chino jacket with denim patch

Denim with a hand painted patch

The Collection

one-of-a-kind pieces of wearable art.

The Black River Top

